

Story Shop

“Trust the story...
The story can only ever be itself”

James Robertson

Every day at 4pm in the Spiegeltent
FREE – just drop in!

Showcasing the talented new writers emerging from our UNESCO City of Literature.

Drop by to listen to a free short story reading from some of Edinburgh's finest up-and-coming writers:

Sat 15 Helen McClory

Sun 16 August Thomas

Mon 17 Pab Roberts

Tue 18 Mike Nicholson

Wed 19 Catriona Child

Thu 20 Rebecca Raeburn

Fri 21 David Macpherson

Sat 22 Alison Gibson

Sun 23 Shona Cook

Mon 24 Kirsty Venters Marks

Tue 25 Lindsay Oliver

Wed 26 Sheena Guz

Thu 27 Ian Murphy

Fri 28 Olga Wojtas

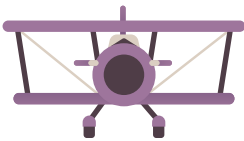

Sat 29 Ali George

Sun 30 Stuart Johnstone

Mon 31 Carol Farrelly

“Piled deep
and massy,
close
and high,
Mine own romantic town”

Sir Walter Scott

Be inspired by new and established writers reading their work...

Ten at Ten

Every day, 10am – 10.10am, Free

Set yourself up for the day ahead with a delicious morning reading from a Festival author.

Check the screen in the Entrance Tent to see who's reading each day.

See debut novelists and short fiction writers...

First Book Award

Daily events, various times, £7 – £10

56 titles are up for this year's First Book Award, with the winner selected by public vote. Take your pick from new Scottish talents including Kirstin Innes, Lucy Ribchester and Colin MacIntyre and some fantastic debut and newly translated novelists from countries near and far including Denmark, Mexico, Iceland, Nigeria and Turkey. See the Book Festival website for the full line-up www.edbookfest.co.uk/the-festival/first-book-award or pick up a First Book Award leaflet in the Entrance Tent.

Tickets for all events are available from the Book Festival Box Office Tel 0845 373 5888 or visit www.edbookfest.co.uk

Literary Edinburgh – All year round

Edinburgh has a vibrant bookish community and Edinburgh City of Literature runs an informal monthly Salon to connect our literary folk.

For news and views on books, words, poetry, plays and stories plus events and workshops in Edinburgh 365 days a year, visit www.cityofliterature.com or follow us @EdinCityofLit

edinburgh (edɪnbərə) n.
UNESCO City of Literature